Ecological Gardens

GARDENING | ECOLOGICAL ART | SUSTAINABILITY SKILLS

Sid Hill is a multi award-winning ecological gardener, designer and artist. He was home educated and grew up helping to tend his parents forest garden in Portugal. He studied ethnobotany and garden design at The Eden Project. He has run an ecological gardening and permaculture design business for 15 years. He hopes to inspire others with his contagious fascination with plants and practical approaches to sustainability via his instagram and in person teachings.
